

JOTT INTRODUCES REPLY WITH VOICE OPTIONS FOR BLACKBERRY® USERS

Seattle, WA - Jott Networks, a voice-to-text service offering mobile professionals simple organization and communications solutions, today announced the ability to reply to emails using its voice-to-text technology on BlackBerry® smartphones from Research In Motion (RIM) (Nasdaq: RIMM). The new application offers mobile professionals a fast, easy way to verbally reply to email messages.

BlackBerry® smartphone customers with Jott accounts can download a small application file from the Jott.com website by pointing the BlackBerry® Browser to www.jott.com/bb. Once the application has been successfully installed, "Reply with Jott" will appear in the full email reply menu. When ready, the customer selects "Reply with Jott" and simply speaks his or her message. The reply is converted to text by Jott, and is then seamlessly integrated into the email and sent to the intended recipient(s). Jott for BlackBerry is currently in free Beta and available for BlackBerry® 8800, BlackBerry® Curve™ and BlackBerry® Pearl™ Series smartphones. Jott.com currently works with all major mobile carriers in the U.S. and Canada.

Jott Networks CEO John Pollard commented, "Staying on top of email is beneficial for people on the move. Reply with Jott can dramatically increase the speed and richness of replying to email, and frees up time for other things. Reply with Jott is consistent with our goal to provide mobile professionals with simple organization and communications solutions that fit within their workflow."

As global competition increases, the need for speed and productivity in business continues to grow. Reply with Jott allows for quick and comprehensive replies. Reply with Jott enables mobile professionals to accomplish more in less time.

Just prior to CTIA 2008, Jott will introduce www.tersereplysyndrome.com showcasing a set of parody Jott for BlackBerry commercials and a humorous take on the side effects of thumbing email messages.
